WHEELING, W. VA., AUGUST 20, 1887.

Henry George and the Farmers Mr. Henry George's recent attitude towards the Socialists has been regarded by those enthusiasts as something need ing explanation; for they point out that it is not long since he was one of them, holding and preaching their doctrines That was before Mr. George became a politician. Perhaps he holds the same views now. If so his reason for not ventilating them may be found in a somewhat remarkable explanation made to a Socialist leader on the way to the Syracuse convention of the George-McGlynn Party.

Mr. George and his faction of the United Labor party had served notice that no Socialists need apply for admission as delegates; but the Socialists were on their way, and one of the most persistent of them pressed Mr. George for an explanation, and this is what he got. The farm ers do not and will not endorse the ideas of the Socialists, and the United Labor Party cannot succeed without the farmers Therefore Mr. George hoped the Socialist cialist idea had to be kept out of the way

Whether this pacified that particular Socialist, we are not informed. But what of the farmers who are to be caught and kneaded into make Mr. George's loaf?
In this country there are eight millions of persons engaged in agriculture, and there are four millions of farm owners. The value of farms and improvements is more than ten thousand million dollars. The product of these farms in any variance of the many constructed a coffer dam, found the leak value of farms and improvements is more than ten thousand million dollars. The product of these farms in any variance of the captain's own report. kneaded into make Mr. George's loaf? product of these farms in any year will pay the National debt twice over.

It is to the most numerous class of capi taliete that Mr. George looks for the mos comfort in the crusade he is preaching against capital; and to the men who own four million individual farms he hopes to commend his scheme to abolish private property in land. In Mr. George's view landed property represents just so much robbery, and of course the holders of that property are robbers

If it be true, as Mr. George says, that his movement cannot succeed without the farmer vote, the world will not last long enough to crown his movement with universe farmers who so much enjoy taxation that they will gladly vote to tax themselves entirely out of their ownership, but no such farmers inhabit this planet of ours. Maybe Mr. George is postal laws and says the story was a hoax. universe farmers who so much enjoy taxdreaming of other worlds to conquer.

Scott, the late paying teller who abuse his position to rob the Manhattan Bank of $160,000, has sent to his counsel in New York extracts from letters received by him from Dunn, the man who advised him to steal a million in order to cripple the bank the table. and force a compromise that would leave him in financial case and freedom.

ments of Scott on the whole matter it seems that he was completely in the power of Dunn. Not only so, but it appear that Dunn, knowing of Scott's opportuni liberately to get close to him and to lead him into bad habits, so that he should begin his stealing without any suggestio

The first bad step taken and Dunn's in fluence thoroughly, what was more natural than that Scott should open himself to the man in whom he thought he could confide so delicate a business? This would not excuse Scott, but it would show Dunn to be a villain of a very dark hue; and it would be another of the many warnings to young men to be careful of the company they

Men in positions of trust have been sought before by scoundrels who saw a way to make use of them. No man how ever well meaning knows that he is strong enough to resist any and all temptation; and no man can afford to make intimacies without very thoroughly knowing the character of those who offer him their intimacy. This is very old and very trite, and it is also true of all times and of all men.

In its issue for November 20, 1885, the Louisville Courier-Journal called attention to the lessening Republican majority in Lowa, and it gloated over the figures in this way:
"In 1880 Iowa gave Garfield a plurality of over 78,000.
"In 1881 it gave the Republican candidate for Governor a plurality of nearly 60,000.

"In 1882 it gave the Republican candidate for Secretary of State a plurality of not quite 37,000.

"In 1883 it re-elected the Republican Governor by a plurality of a few votes over 25,000. "This year the Iowa Republicans har

"This year the Iowa Republicans hare finally learned that they have carried the State by about 6,000, over which they propose to hold a big celebration, beat the tom-tom, sound the hew-gag, skin the cat and jubliste galore."

The recent election in Kentucky gives an opportunity for a Democratic "hideons festival," as Mr. Waterson called the above. The propriety of its being held can be found in the following figures:

In 1880 Kentucky gave Hancock a plurality of 42,764 over Garfield.

In 1882 the Kentucky Democrats gave the drauken sot "Tom" Henry a plurality of 40,218.

of 40,218.

In 1833 the Democratic party in Kentucky gave Prector Knott for Governor selear majority of 44,434 notwithstanding that there were grave doubts as twelcher his nomination had not been severed by frand whether his nomination had not been secured by fraud.

In 1884 the Democratic plurality for Cleveland in Kentucky was 34,833, although there was no canvass made.

In 1885 the Democratic plurality for Cleveland in Kentucky was 34,833, although there was no canvass made.

In 1885 the Democratic plurality in Kentucky on the congressional vote was 26,445 and the majority 12,168.

This year, after making the heavens blue with barbecue smoke and the sir livid with campaign oratory and calling out the largest vote ever east in the State, Kentucky gives a Democratic plurality of 17,015 and a beggarly Democratic pirrality of 17,015 and a beggarly Democratic majority of 4,128.

If Mr. Watterman and his Free-trade party, from which he has time and again ordered out all the Protection Whigs, desire to hold a festival, hideous or otherwise, over the recent victory in Kentucky and "jubilate galors," there is not a Ropublican who will begrudge them all the enjoyment they may derive therefrom.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS

Of the Business Ontlook in New York, Everybody Happy, New York, August 19.—The Herald prints a page of interviews with leading firms in different branches of trade in this city. They show that there has been a radual but steady increase since the first of the year over the business of the pant few years. Many merchants admit, how-ever, that even better trade would have been done if the money market not been so close, while others hold that this same been done if the money market not been so close, while others hold that this same closeness of the money market has tended to colidify trade by restricting undue speculation, and infusing more care and thought into the minds of those who otherwise might have been tempted to try and fly higher than the strength of their wings waranted.

The dry goods men express themselves as being well satisfied with the business done. Collections are reported good and healthy, and a steady market seems to have been a universal expression. The carpot trade in reported to be in a remarkably healthy condition. Furniture men are reported as dealing with satisfaction. Dealers in woolen and worsteds state that their trade has been fully up to that of last year, but not much over it. Collections are reported good and but fow accounts run over time. shoe men seem to be the happiest crowd

A Healthy Stomach is a blessing for which thousands of our dysper-Is a blessing for which thousands of our dyspeptic countrymen and women sigh in valo, and to obtain which swallow much medicine unavailingly. For no aliment—probably—are there to many alleged remedies as for dyspepsia. The man of humbug is constantly glutted with the dollars and dimes of those who resort to one nostrum after another in the vain hope of obtaining relief, at least, from this vexatious and obstinate malady. Experience indicates Hostetter's Stomach Elitters as a means of credicating dysposia. In which a general nence indicates instituter's Stomach. Efficies as a means of cradicating dyspopsia, in which a firm reliance can be placed. No remedy has in three decades and over established such a reputation, none has received such unqualified professional sanction. It is an admirable invigerant, because it emichaes the blood, and not only this, but it decoming regulates the blood and proposed the such as a supplemental proposed by the medicine.

As he less "White Cap" organization. As he started from home yesterday, he met an shonest farmer who was hurrying away from home with his family and such effects as he could carry, impelled by "White Caps" who had made an assault to him and threatened him with death if he did not leave the county. His premises had been plundered by the outlaws and he was frightened nearly to death. The informant stated no one could conciceive of the condition of affairs without actual experience. Some idea of the genieral fear which prevails may be had from the tho fact that the genileman is here to urge the Governor to call out the militia, but in giving information of the outrages asks that his name may be omitted in the publication.
